High Level Design (HLD)

Cryptocurrency Volatility Prediction

This system predicts cryptocurrency volatility using historical market data.

The system consists of data preprocessing, feature engineering, machine learning model training, evaluation, and deployment.

Major components:

1. Dataset

2. Preprocessing module

3. Feature engineering module

4. Machine learning model

5. Streamlit deployment